Who We Are

The mission of Christian Clearing House (CCH) is to provide emergency assistance for our neighbors facing financial, emotional, or spiritual needs in Hancock County.

CCH is a non-profit organization that exists as an association of churches. Along with more than 50 member churches, CCH is governed by a Board of Directors working in conjunction with a small staff and a large number of volunteers. Finances are raised through churches, individuals, company donations, grants and fund-raising events.

By combining these resources, CCH is able to assist citizens in Hancock County that are homeless, unemployed, disabled, working at minimum paying jobs or are experiencing an unusual financial crisis. CCH has the ability to give assistance with food, rent, utilities, medical prescriptions, and many other miscellaneous needs.

Founded in 1994, CCH began when 13 local churches came together to address a common concern among Christians –to help the needy. Today, CCH truly acts as a clearing house, giving vouchers and pledges as well as cooperating with local social agencies on referrals.

How It Works

Persons in emergency need should contact the CCH office by visit or phone. Staff will then determine the extent of the emergency and decide upon the course of action. If other resources will better serve the client, applicants will be directed to these resources and/or social agencies.

CCH will help to identify and clarify other problem areas expressed by the applicant during an interview and recommend appropriate services. After the evaluation and verification process, CCH may provide a voucher or pledge to satisfy the applicant's need, or refer them to another agency that may better help.

How You Can Help

Volunteers and churches are an integral part of CCH. Volunteers help the CCH staff on a daily basis. To Learn More about volunteering, contact the office.

Financial contributions from the community are always in need! Client needs continue to increase.
